

GPS Storyteller

THE STORY OF WHERE YOU ARE!

In our current world of Social Media platforms, posts are designed to be chronological in nature.

This means that even culturally significant posts are fleeting.

GPS Storyteller is a geographical social media platform - like planting a flag where your story will always live, regardless of when someone comes upon it!

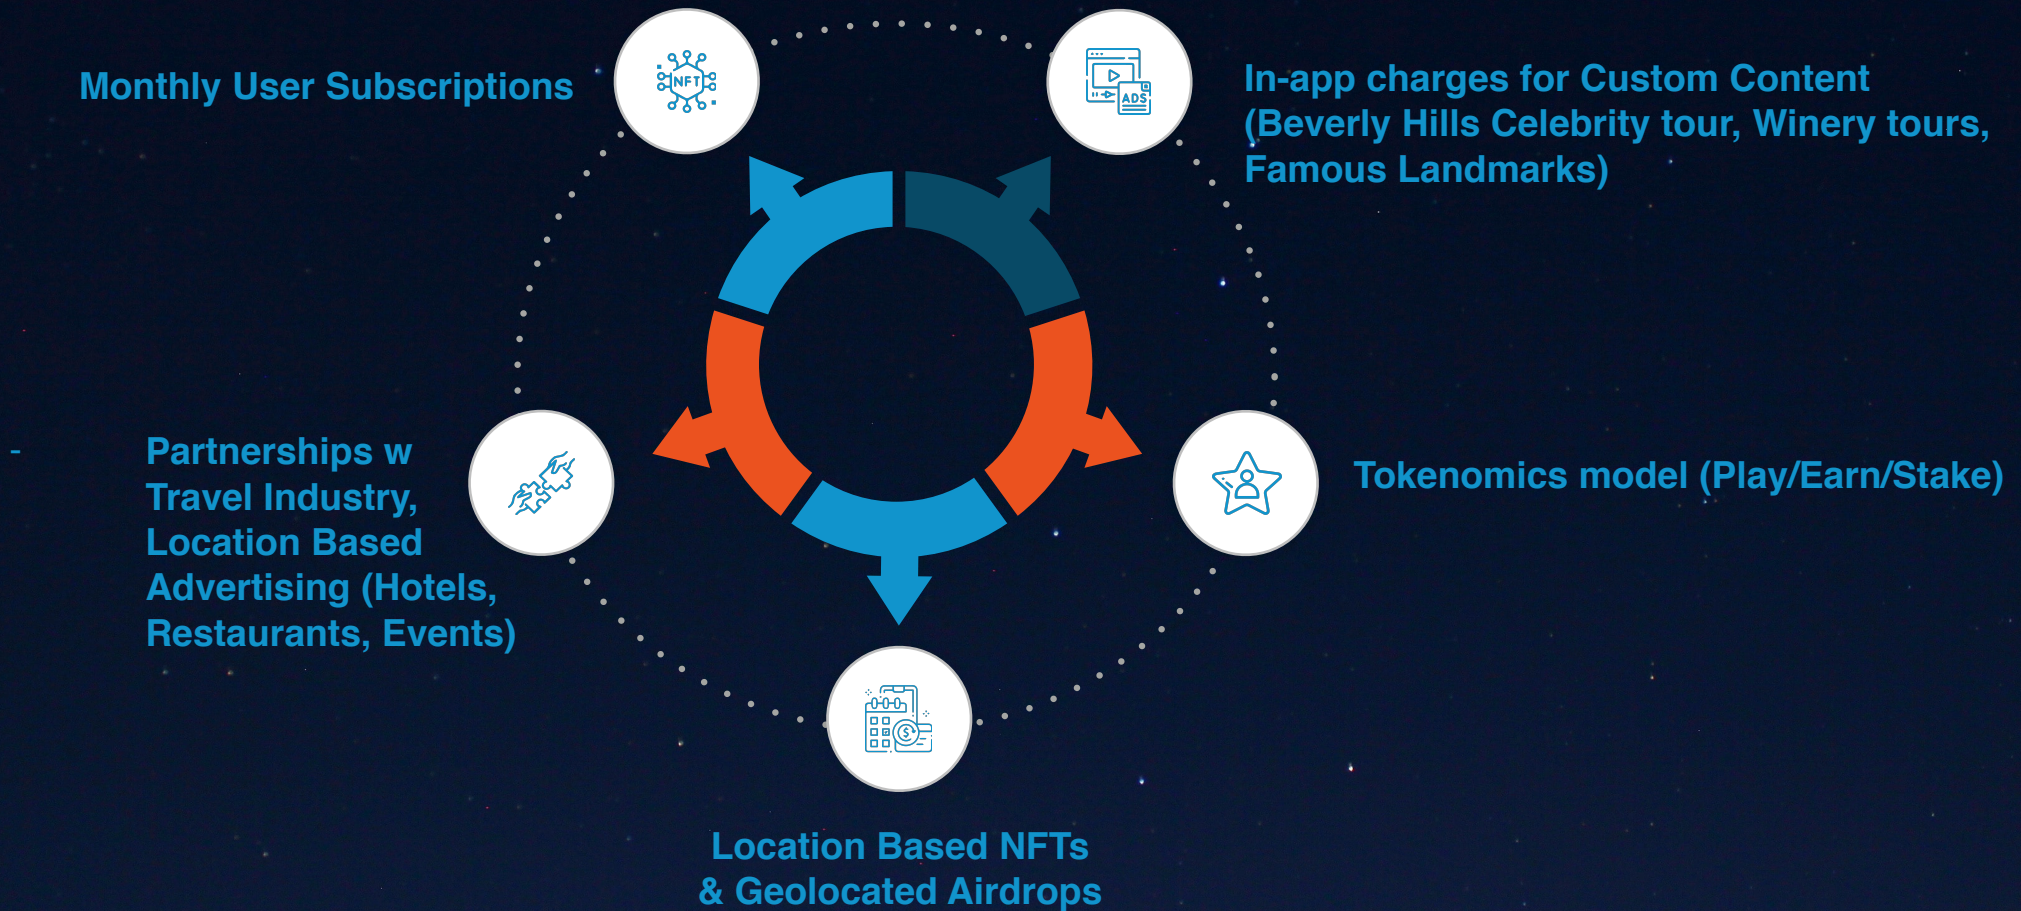

Browse Featured listings complete with actors narration, music, images, sound effects all tied to geo locations. GPS Storyteller has a built-in tool making it easy to create and share your own GeoCasts (geographical broadcasts).

GPS Storyteller is designed to be intuitive and engaging!

-  Use the map to see stories that are close to you
-  Swipe for turn-by-turn directions
-  Stories automatically play hands-free at each location
-  Create your own GeoCast mixing your voice with images and music
-  Share a cool new spot privately with friends or post to the public platform

GPS Storyteller has multiple revenue streams to develop sustainable income.

GPS Storyteller operates at the intersection of three lucrative markets.

The global social media market was valued at $159.68 billion in 2021

GPS Storyteller appeals to a broad yet targeted audience, to be expanded as additional product functionality and countries are added to the app.

In the Post-Covid era, people are ready to get out of the house, start exploring and try new things.

GPS Storyteller capitalizes on this trend, while also appealing to the world's fascination with NFTs and location-based assets. Our focus on AR & the Metaverse will ensure this content is enjoyed well into the future.

We are seeking $350K in funding to be used over 9 months.

The funding will be used for the following purposes:

Jeff's love for the arts is at the center of all his endeavors. He's worked in the entertainment industry acting on television and film, producing video, and composing original music.

As a businessman, he successfully built Marshall Design Group, Southern California's premier home staging firm. As the Owner/Design Director for over 20 years, he has managed teams of designers and employees while curating business relationships with realtors and developers.

Now, Jeff takes this experience with him on the GPS Storyteller journey into Web3.
